CASH BOY RESUMES RAISING TONNAGE

The Cash Boy is back in the shipping list after a month of suspended holding due to the retimbering of the shaft and general development work which was conducted through the Victor shaft. The management hopes to maintain a regular shipping tonnage, but at present Manager Mead is not able to make a definite statement as to what amount will be handled weekly. However, this week the tonnage will run close to the 100 mark as another carload is almost ready and will go out about tomorrow night. The values have not been received from the carload lot.

WARNING AGAINST FRAUDS IMPERSONATING OFFICERS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Complaints have reached the internal revenue bureau in Washington of the activities of impersonators of internal revenue officers in various parts of the country, according to telegraphic advices received by Collector Justus S. Wardell and Revenue Agent in Charge W. W. Anderson. Immediate and effective steps will be taken to protect the taxpayers and vigorously prosecute these imposters, it was announced.

I loan you a watch to carry while I repair your own. I am the finest watchmaker who ever came to Tonopah. Emilie Merman at Robert's Grocery store.

MINING STOCK SUIT ON TRIAL

The district court is occupied with the case of J. F. Ford vs. R. Fred Brown over an amount involved in a transaction in which Morning Glory stock figured. The attorneys in the case have shown some discrimination in selecting jurors where there is likely to be any prejudice arising from interest in the mining market and at 2 o'clock this afternoon the following were in the box: Al. Frevert, A. A. Buchanan, Robert Shields, C. F. Wittenberg, J. J. Lemm, Walter Reddy, Mrs. W. J. Wilson, Harry McNamara, R. E. Gillan, Julius Goldsmith and Mrs. Ella Manning. At 3 o'clock the jury was completed by the withdrawal of Lemm and Wittenberg and the acceptance of Chris Barry, Emil Elkner and Sam Hall.

RESUME SINKING ON TONOPAH DIVIDE

Manager Waters resumed sinking the shaft on the Tonopah Divide yesterday with the intention of going 100 feet deeper from the 265-foot station from which the crosscut was run south. During the sinking no lateral work will be done.

BURGLAR BREAKS LOCK ON DOOR OF T. & G. MARKET

Some time last night the retail store of the United Cattle and Packing company was entered and $10 taken from the cash register. The thief must have been in a hurry for he was so nervous that he dropped his watch which was picked off the floor this morning. The timepiece was identified by Shemanski as one that was taken from his store yesterday by a man who left it to be repaired.

TURNED DREAMS TO ACCOUNT

Novelists and Musicians Have Scored Triumphs by Their Remembrances of Dreadful Nightmares.

Nightmares, as well as ordinary dreams, have more than once been turned to profitable use. The famous Mrs. Radcliffe, the great sensational novelist of the early nineteenth century, obtained her "inspiration" for such blood-curdling romances as the "Mysteries of Udolpho" and "The Romance of the Forest" from phantom horrors seen in sleep taken after supping on pork pies.

A remarkable story is told about the production of Tartini's "Devil's Sonata." The musician had made several vain attempts to write a sonata to his own satisfaction, but without result. At last, in a fit of dejection, he retired to rest, and no sooner had he dropped asleep than he fell into a troubled dream in which the devil appeared to him and took up his violin.

At first he was in an agony of apprehension lest the fiend should destroy his greatest treasure, but instead the Author of Evil played the most fascinating and weird music Tartini had ever heard. He then implored the devil to write it down, but Beelzebub flatly refused, and went off in such a rage that the musician awoke in a great fright.

But the lilt of the wonderful music was still ringing in his brain and he leaped out of bed, rushed to his desk, and put down all he could recall, which, he always averred, was the worst portion of the wonderful whole. The sonata has ever since borne the name of its true satanic author.

De Quincey is usually called the English Opium-Eater, and he obtained the greater part of his fame from the awful, though often enchanting, dreams that visited him while he lay in the power of the drug. His "Confessions of an Opium Eater" contains some of the masterpieces of prose describing in wonderful language his terrible nightmares.

Why Person Freezes to Death. During the deep sleep which follows extreme fatigue the sensitiveness of the nervous system is greatly reduced, and it becomes unable to perceive the lowness of temperature. The unconsciousness of sleep gradually passes into the unconsciousness of collapse. According to the popular belief such a man dies "frozen to death," but as a matter of fact he was killed long before his temperature fell to zero.

What really killed him was the reduction of the activity of his tissues, which always follows the loss of nervous control. As a result there was less and less chemical change accompanied by the production of heat, and at an internal temperature of about 68 degrees life ceased.

That is why, as experience has often shown, the weary traveler who gives way to the imperative desire to sleep on the line of march is doomed to death when he has no adequate protection from extreme cold.

COMPROMISE REACHED BETWEEN DRYS AND WETS ON PROHIBITION

An agreement between the leaders of the "wet" and "dry" factions is about to be reached by which Nevada will be a "dry" state after January 1, 1920, and the national prohibition amendment will be ratified either at a regular or a special session of the legislature, according to the Reno Gazette. The agreement is a compromise under which both sides are to unite to defeat the initiative prohibition measure, a substitute prohibition bill to be adopted. A bill to compensate liquor dealers for their stock and fixtures is also to be adopted, to be effective only in the event that the initiative prohibition measure shall not be defeated.

The negotiations have been conducted with the utmost secrecy. The plan involves also the calling of a special session of the legislature for the purpose of adopting a "substitute" measure for the present initiative act, the substitute measure to carry a time clause, thus removing what the "wets" have insisted all along was the chief objectionable feature to the act, namely that it is confiscatory in its present form because, under its terms, it would become effective immediately after the official canvass of the vote had been announced in December in case it should carry.

In every other respect the plans being discussed call for a bill to be introduced at the special session identical with the initiative act. The date of which the proposed new bill would become effective has not been entirely agreed upon, although tentatively fixed at January 1, 1920. This would give the owners of stocks of liquors and liquor houses about thirteen months' time to dispose of their present stocks and equipments.

What is perhaps one of the most important features in connection with the pending negotiations is an agreement between the two opposing factions to make a concerted effort to defeat the present initiative act, as under the statute it is compulsory that the initiative act be voted on at the next election.

To protect the liquor dealers against the possibility of failure of the concerted effort to defeat the HENDERSON'S BILL ON APEX TO BE AMENDED

Amendments to the apex bill recently introduced in the senate by Senator Henderson of Nevada, eliminating some of the features objected to by Nevada mining men, and incorporating other features will be made by the committee on mining before the bill is taken up in the senate according to word received here from Senator Henderson.

Senator Henderson submitted the bill to the Nevada mining men for their suggestions and it is proposed that the Nevada mine operators take up the bill and discuss it.

Some points in the bill were not approved by mining men, who appear to be in favor of repealing the present apex law, and at the request of Senator Henderson no official action will be taken on the bill by the operators' association until after it is amended.—Gazette.

Initiative act it is planned to have passed at the special session an additional bill with a proviso that it shall become operative only on condition that the initiative act should be adopted. The additional bill would provide that in such an event liquor dealers shall be compensated on the basis of 75 per cent for their stocks and 50 per cent for their fixtures. In case the initiative bill is beaten the compensation bill would be ipso facto inoperative and without effect.

NOTE.—It may be easily seen that the fine Italian hand of Governor Boyle and the Democratic party is sticking out through this thin veneer of a deception, which the party is trying to put over the voters of Nevada to prevent them from expressing their opposition to the proposed constitutional amendment, which has not a ghost of a chance of receiving popular approval.

CURLEY MONROE FOUND DEAD IN GOLDFIELD

BELIEVED TO HAVE SMOTHERED TO DEATH UNDER INFLUENCE OF NARCOTICS

The body of Curley Monroe, a young man who recently sang in the Exchange theater, was found early this morning in a hollow on the west side of First street, between Hall and Miner, says the Goldfield Tribune. The body was lying face down and it is supposed that Monroe, in an intoxicated condition or almost helpless from the use of drugs, fell on his face, burying it in sand, and smothered to death. His wife, Mrs. Alice Monroe, now in Ely, has been notified of the death.

Curley Monroe played an engagement at the Butler theater last month, but never was a resident of Tonopah. At one time he was recognized as a leading soloist and played the Orpheum circuit regularly until dissipation ruined him.

REWARD OF $5000 FOR WALTERS TO BE PAID

The reward of $5000 by the state for the capture of Paul Walters, who fled after shooting Sheriff Mark Wildes of Churchill county, and was shot and killed by Skinny Pascal, will be paid, according to an announcement by Governor Boyle. By proclamation the governor offered a reward of $1000 for Walters, dead or alive, and a few days later the board of examiners allowed him to offer an additional reward of $4000, but Walters was killed before the governor signed the official proclamation.

An oral opinion by Attorney General Thatcher given at the governor's request was to the effect that no executive proclamation was needed to make the reward but that the mere statement by the governor to parties interested that the board of examiners had allowed the reward was sufficient to make it legal.

Before the reward is paid the governor intends to advertise and set a date when all claims must be filed. To settle all disputes on the matter it is possible that a committee or board of some kind will be appointed to consider all claims.

SECOND LOCAL OFFICER GETS HIS COMMISSION

Dr. John Richard Masterson today received his commission as first lieutenant in the medical section of the officers reserve corps of the army of the United States to rank as such from the 20th day of May. The commission has been expected for some time and the doctor has his uniform all ready to don as the regulations require every officer to appear in full uniform at all times after he takes the oath of office. Dr. Masterson, shortly after receiving the appointment, called on Judge Averill and took the proper obligation. Dr. Claude Church was first to receive his commission which arrived two weeks ago and it is believed the next one to secure recognition will be Dr. Cunningham. The officers must hold themselves in readiness to respond to call for service and be prepared to accept assignment at any station.

AMUSEMENTS

THE BUTLER TODAY

The great photoplay, "Du Barry," in which Theda Bara does her most brilliant work, will appear tonight. This play is the most wonderful creation of its kind that has ever been presented on the films. All that Miss Bara has done only gives a suggestion of the charm and elaborateness of this great production. The story is a historic one, which many have attempted to write, and it has even been seen upon the stage, but it remained for the films and Miss Bara to give to the world the revelation of the character of this wonderful woman. It is known that the great actress spent a long time in studying the times of Louis XV and the woman who pervaded them, before she attempted the creation of this photoplay. There is no doubt but what she has succeeded in a marvelous manner in grasping the subject, and in putting it upon the screen. One of the most remarkable features of the play is the dresses that Miss Bara wears, which were specially designed by her, after long consultation with experts on the period of Louis XV. These dresses are peculiar, however, in one way. They might easily appear in drawing rooms of today. Every one of them is a study of art, of womanly adornment, and is a thing of beauty in itself. The play of "Du Barry" will live long in the memories of those who have been fortunate enough to view it. Here is a production which most accurately describes life in the reign of a certain king, yet is universal and relates to all times. Also, a Hearst-Pathe News with the third of the series of pictures taken on the battle front of Picardy. First show, 7:30; second, 9.

WHAT'S WHAT

(By L. L. Mushett)

Vol. 1, Tonopah, June 12, 1918, No. 65

Ben D. Luce, City.

Dear Ben:—I seen your ad in the paper, and by golly, Ben, I'm gonna hand you the laurels. How did you do it, Ben? I've seen 'em do it in the movies, where they'd trun 'em over and run over 'em and do all kinds of stunts and nobody hurt, but I'll bet nobody ever thought that our own Governor Ben could pull off a circus like that. And you know, Ben, that's great stuff, cause everybody loves a guy who can show some class as a driver and it takes with the bunch and makes votes. I bet right now that the bunch will all go for you because they ought to be satisfied that you can steer the ship of state and if you tip her over nobody will get hurt and the ship will not be damaged.

Now that you are off on the right foot, I wanta give you a few ideas about getting all the votes:

First you gotta plug like the dickens for the War Savings Stamp drive which is now on. Next, boost up the Home Guard and show 'em that if you get in you'll go over and see Woodrow and fix it so the guard can get guns and uniforms and everything. Then, we're going to have a nice little celebration on the Fourth of July and you can help boost that along because everybody loved George Washington and you better let 'em know your strong for George. And then, keep your ears open and if you hear anybody going against you Uncle Sammy, pull out you "stillecacho" and carve out his heart and give it to the poundman to feed to the dogs.

If I think of anything else I'll let you know.

Sincerely, LEE.
